Monarch Butterflies — Conservation and Preservation

MaryRose Noto-Hardy is an avid gardener with a lifelong passion for butterflies and nature. In 1997, after studying with international butterfly habitat consultant Rick Micula, she began raising butterflies and advocating for their habitat conservations. This led to her participation in monarch tagging and research programs to aid Dr. Chip Taylor of the University of Kansas in his studies of monarch migration.

MaryRose has presented programs to schools, garden centers, and community service groups to heighten awareness of monarch conservation. She has been instrumental in the creation of several monarch habitats in our area. These habitats, as well as her own backyard, are certified as “Monarch Waystations.”

Her program discusses how monarchs and their annual migration have become seriously threatened by human activities in both their summer habitat and overwintering sites in Mexico. She will explain monarch biology and habitat requirements to help us better understand the resources needed for these beautiful but fragile creatures to thrive and reproduce.

Please join us on October 16 at Christ Presbyterian Church in Camp Hill. We will begin at 7PM with a social gathering. Our brief chapter meeting starts at 7:30 followed by the program.

Wild Borneo

On Thursday, November 20, we will travel to Borneo with Steve Rannels, who will discuss the natural world of this fascinating country and nearby Northern Sulawesi. The presentation will include a description of the forests of this region and discuss how the creatures of the area have adapted to changes that occurred before and after the last ice age, with an emphasis on the perspective of Alfred Russel Wallace, a 19th century naturalist. Rich in plant, insect, bird, and mammal life, Borneo is a must have visit for naturalists.

A zoology major at Penn State, Steve received a PhD in physiology from the PSU College of Medicine. He resides in Hershey with his wife Sharon. Now retired, Steve continues his travel to areas that feed his interest in nature.

As always, our evening begins at 7PM with a social gathering at Christ Presbyterian Church. We will follow that with our monthly chapter meeting and Dr. Rannels’ program.

Join us on October 16 at 7:00 for this great program!

Hog Island – A Youth Camper’s Experience

Nathan Vorodi was the 2014 recipient of the AAS scholarship to the youth camp held at Hog Island this past summer. He will give a short presentation on his experience at the camp, prior to our program, on Thursday, October 16. Nathan will tell us what the week at Hog Island meant to him and how it broadened his perspective on nature.

Looking Forward to the Annual Christmas Bird Counts

December will be here before you know it. Because this is such a busy time of the year we thought we’d post an early reminder about the Christmas Bird Counts conducted in our area. Never done one? It’s great fun and it gives you the opportunity to become a citizen scientist for the day.

Field Trips

OCTOBER FIELD TRIP

Sunday Evening, October 19, 2014 — Owl Banding with Sandy Lockerman at Small Valley

Mid-October has historically been the peak of Saw-whet Owl migration. Bird bander Sandy Lockerman will demonstrate owl banding (if an owl is caught!) to a group of no more than 10 participants. Dress warmly as there is no heat in the cabin. The banding should be completed by 12 midnight. The group will meet near Harrisburg at 6:30PM. Contact Rick Price at 657-1950 or rprice210@comcast.net to see if space is still available.

NOVEMBER FIELD TRIP

Friday, November 14, 2014 — Tour of Huntsdale State Fish Hatchery

If you have wondered where some of the trout in Pennsylvania’s cold water streams and lakes come from, then this trip is perfect for you. A Pennsylvania Fish and Boat Commission staff member will take us on a tour of the Huntsdale Fish Hatchery, located about 12 miles southwest of Carlisle. Huntsdale is one of the areas where the trout are bred and raised. This trip is being held on a weekday so that a staff member is available to conduct the tour. The group will meet in the hatchery parking lot at 9:45AM. Contact Rick Price at 657-1950 or rprice210@comcast.net.
